

eMazzanti Technologies Collects Global AND Americas IAMCP P2P Award Finalist Honors

NYC area business technology consultant recognized twice by the International Association of Microsoft Partners (IAMCP) with P2P Award Finalist honors for excellence in partnering

Hoboken, New Jersey – (April 25, 2023) eMazzanti Technologies, a NYC area business technology consultant, MSP, and Microsoft Partner announced today that the company has been recognized as a 2023 P2P Award Finalist in the Advisor category of BOTH the IAMCP GLOBAL and IAMCP AMERICAS P2P Awards. Winners and finalists are selected by a panel of international judges from a pool of global entries.

“Congratulations to eMazzanti Technologies for being the 2023 IAMCP Global and Americas P2P Awards Finalist. This accomplishment is the community’s highest recognition of excellence in partnering,” said Paul Solski, International P2P Committee Chair.

“These two awards provide outstanding examples of partnering for mutual success resulting in better solutions for customers with improved business outcomes. In a global community that thrives on partnering, receiving this award is an impressive accomplishment.”

Award-Winning Masterclass Series

According to eMazzanti's Advisor P2P Award submission, the company created a Microsoft Masterclass Series that focuses on the productivity improvements from using Microsoft Modern Workplace solutions and Azure in conjunction with Skykick, a Microsoft cloud services company, offerings. In the last 12 months many of the over 975 attendee's to these workshops have turned into significant opportunities for the firm and contributed to eMazzanti's 40% year over year growth.

World's Largest Independent Community of Microsoft Partners

The International Association of Microsoft Channel Partners (IAMCP) is the world's largest independent community of Microsoft partners. Members meet to network, share insights, opportunities, and develop Partner-to-Partner (P2P) collaborative partnerships.

"Partnering with outstanding Microsoft Partners enables eMazzanti to focus on what we do best," said Carl Mazzanti, President, eMazzanti Technologies. "As we improve our core processes, such as project management, and deliver solutions from our partners, our customers receive world-class technology and customer service from a trusted source."

The IAMCP P2P Awards contest is an annual event designed to recognize excellence in partnering activities with other IAMCP members. The contest invites submissions from members about their P2P activities in the previous year and identifies the best entries as judged by international leaders. The best entries are recognized with awards and receive benefits including promotional activities, publicity, and Microsoft recognition.

"We are delighted to be recognized by the IAMCP as the Global and Americas P2P Award Finalist. As a company, we build partnerships to enhance the breadth and depth of our solutions and do business smarter. With its numerous P2P initiatives, the IAMCP makes partnering easier," related Jennifer Mazzanti, CEO, eMazzanti Technologies.
